Pusey Will Attend Princeton Meeting

President Nathan Pusey is leaving Appleton today to attend a meeting of the Commission on Liberal Education of the Association of American Colleges at Princeton, New Jersey. The commission will discuss the place of letters in higher education. May 4 and 5 have been set as the dates for the discussions. Before going to Princeton, Mr. Pusey will travel to Oberlin, Ohio, Saturday, May 3, to attend William Edwards Stevenson's inauguration as president of Oberlin college.

Dr. Baker Speaks At Northwestern

Dr. Louis C. Baker, professor of French at Lawrence College and president of the Central-Southern area of Phi Sigma Iota, will attend a league meeting of the national honorary Romance language fraternity at Northwestern university May 3. Dr. Baker will make a speech on "Phi Sigma Iota Ideals." Beloit, Lake Forest, and Northwestern will also attend the meeting.

Novel by Beck Is Released

New Book Deals With Post-War Adjustments

Warren Beck, professor of English who won the Friends of American Writers award in 1944 with his first novel "Final Score", will have his second book published on May 7, according to word from his publishers.

The new book, "Pause under the Sky," is being released by William Morrow under the special imprint of the Swallow Press. An English edition of the book was scheduled to be released simultaneously by Eyre and Spottiswood, who printed Beck's first book, but due to floods and resultant industrial delays, it will not appear until midsummer.

Beck began "Pause under the Sky" in 1944 after the publication of his first prize-winner, and took the manuscript with him to England when he went there in 1945 to teach at the American GI university at Shrinham. While he was there, "Final Score" went on the English market where it was shortly placed on the list of the six books most in demand that season. Beck's first novel was also placed in U. S. Army camp libraries all over the nation.

While Beck's first book dealt with the post-college life of a big time collegiate athlete, "Pause under the Sky" concerns itself with personal adjustments in a wartime atomic age. "The novel," says the publisher's note, "employs a wide-range style; structurally it embraces not only the intimate stories of the chief characters but also a number of panoramic glimpses at the American scene."

Beck has been named to the summer faculty of the Breadloaf School of English at Middlebury, Vermont, where he will teach several courses in composition.

Four Chairmen Visit Madison

Gain Ideas From Badger Leaders

Nancy Moran, general chairman of the careers conference which L. W. A. is sponsoring next October, and three of her committee heads drove to Madison with Miss Wollaege on Tuesday, April 20, to confer with Dean Troxell and student chairmen of careers conferences at the University of Wisconsin.

In addition to Miss Wollaege and Nancy, Jean van Hengel, Betty Foulke and Phyllis Leverenz made the trip. The group arrived shortly before noon. While Miss Wollaege lunched with Mrs. Troxell, the four girls talked with three women leaders at the "U" over their midday meal at the student union. The girls from Wisconsin were Phyllis Rasmussen, Women's Student Government Association President and chairman of the 1946 careers conference; Jane Kresge, an active committee head for the last conference; and Elizabeth Adams, general chairman of the 1947 careers conference.

Since the university's careers conference of the coming school year will be its thirty-fifth, its careers program is well worked out. The Lawrence novices were very grateful for the sound suggestions offered by the university girls in a question-answer session following lunch.

The visitors from Lawrence had about an hour to see some of the campus and visit friends in the various houses. At 4:30 Miss Wollaege and the girls returned to Lathrop hall to hear one of a number of follow-up careers sessions which are spread throughout the year. An interior designer explained the nature of her work, its prerequisites, and its opportunities in a short speech. A question period followed in which some of the women and the few men in attendance raised questions to which they wanted answers.

The Lawrence group returned to Appleton satisfied that a careers conference can be very valuable and interesting to Lawrence women.

Lloyd Lovell was elected president of the senior class and Shirley Buesing was chosen secretary at the class meeting which was held Tuesday afternoon.

Costs of Instruction, Room and Board Go Up $45-$60

Instruction, room and board costs for next year have been increased by from $45 to $60 over this year's costs. President Nathan Pusey announced yesterday in convocation. The rising costs of operation forced the Executive Committee of the Board of Trustees to vote certain increases in the schedule of charges.

The charge for instruction (listed in the catalogue under the two headings, "tuition" and "fees") will be increased by $35 for a year in the college and by $25 at the conservatory. Thus the new rates will be as follows: at the college, $205 per semester; and at the conservatory, $225 per semester.

Board Costs Increase

At the same time the charge for board will have to be increased from $150 to $160 per semester. There will also be some minor incidental charges in room rents which will include an increase of $5 per semester for the rooms in the Quadrangle houses.

"It is with regret that this decision has been taken, but it will be understandable, I think, to all," President Pusey said. "I may add that it is our sincere hope, as I am sure it is yours, that the rising spiral of costs that has plagued everyone will soon be shown by time to have run its course."

The trustees voted at this meeting that all students who find it necessary to withdraw because of the change in charges may have their otherwise non-refundable deposits back. In this case, it is asked that any who wish to withdraw must signify that fact by May 15. If the deposit has not been claimed by that time and a notice of withdrawal received, it will be assumed that the student wishes his or her reservation to stand under the new conditions, and a place will be saved at Lawrence for this person for next year as had been previously planned.

Senior Girls Hear Miss Wollaege

Charlotte Wollaege, dean of women, was the principal speaker at the tea given for senior high school girls from Appleton, Neenah and Menasha by the Neenah-Menasha branch of the American Association of University Women. All girls who are planning to continue their education were invited to the reception.

Four Speakers Head Centennial Week Plans

Plans for the Lawrence college centennial celebration from June 5 to 8 were completed this week, and four nationally prominent speakers have been secured to highlight the festivities. Appearing on Friday, June 6, will be Dr. Donald J. Cowling, president emeritus of Carleton college, and Dr. Henry M. Wriston, president of Brown university. Speaking at the Sunday baccalaureat services is the Reverend Frederic C. Lawrence, Brookline, Mass., a grandson of the college's founder, Amos Lawrence. The commencement talk will be given by Gordon R. Clapp, an alumnus of the class of 1927, who has recently been appointed chairman of the Tennessee Valley Authority.

Centennial festivities will open on Thursday, June 5, with a day devoted to student activities, under the direction of the "L" club and the Women's Recreation association. A tennis exhibition between nationally known stars is being arranged for 10 A. M. on the campus courts to be followed by a student picnic at the Alexander gymnasium. Mixed sports events under the supervision of the two athletic organizations will occupy the afternoon. A street dance on Union street in front of the college library, and an all college sing on the library steps will conclude the students' portion of the festivities.

Friday, June 6, will be the official observance of the college's 100th birthday. During the morning there will be registration of alumni and guests in Main hall, the first floor of which will be cleared of classroom equipment to furnish lounges and space for historical exhibits.

The centennial convocation program will be held at 3 P. M. Friday afternoon in Memorial chapel and at that observance Dr. Donald J. Cowling will be the main speaker. The Lawrence college choir, directed by Dean Carl J. Waterman, will sing at the afternoon event and again at the centennial banquet which will begin at 6 P. M. in the Alexander gymnasium. Dr. Wriston, eighth president of Lawrence, who now heads Brown university, will be the banquet speaker.

Saturday, June 7, will begin with the Phi Beta Kappa reunion breakfast at one of the college dormitories from 8:30 to 10 A. M. At 10:30 o'clock Memorial chapel will be the scene of another program, this one in memory of the 46 Lawrentians who lost their lives in World War II. After a brief service of commemoration, Dean Waterman will lead the choir and a group of soloists in a presentation of Verdi's "Requiem" mass.

Following the chapel program, the cornerstone of the Lawrence Memorial Union will be laid. The union, a gift of the alumni association, will join the present observatory and campus gymnasium, and although the alumni fund drive is not yet completed, the cornerstone will be laid at centennial time. Immediately following, an historical inscription will be placed on the site of the first college building on the Boyd property adjoining the conservatory of music. The college's first building, the preparatory school, was destroyed by fire in 1837.

The annual alumni picnic on the south campus will be held at 12:30 Saturday noon, and the afternoon will be free for informal reunions.

Seven Seniors To be Honored Mothers Day

Mortar Board, L.W.A.
Plan Activities for Traditional Event

On Mother's Day, May 11, the crowning of Lawrence college's May Queen will take place on the green before Alexander gym at three p. m. Witnessing this traditional spring event, which is sponsored by the L. W. A., will be students, parents and faculty. The queen and her six court members were elected by the student body at convocation, April 25.

As the seven honored seniors march down the gym steps in white formal dresses the identity of the queen will be learned for the first time by the audience. The queen of the preceding year is usually the one who crowns the new queen, who is the girl who received the highest number of votes in the all-student election.

Girls from the physical education department, who are trained in folk dancing, will present "Gathering

Veterans to Attend Meeting in Chapel

All students who are attending Lawrence under the G. I. Bill of Rights are requested to attend a special meeting to be held in the chapel next Thursday, May 8, at 1:00 p. m. The meeting has been called by the Veterans' Administration for all Public Law 346 men, and it should not last more than half an hour, in order that 1:30 appointments may be met.

Peasod", an English country dance, and the traditional "May Pole Dance". They will be accompanied by Jean Zei at the piano. The students participating are:

Barbara Morris, Gloria Scott, Meryl Pederson, Virginia Scott, Joan Queenan, Ethel Lou Stanek, Jane McNamara, Shirley Fritz, Jessica Schneider, Mary Ellen Gaper, Molly Smith and Elaine Johnson.

Four additional girls will be chosen to complete the group of 16.

The a cappella choir will sing appropriate spring songs and the May queen will present flowers from her bouquet to the Phi Beta Kappa, Best-Loveds, Mortar Boards and counselors.

After the outdoor celebration Mortar Board will play hostess to all Lawrentians and guests at a tea given by the L. W. A. at Russell Sage hall.

College Choir Concerts Reach Valley Audience

The Lawrence college choir will present its usual spring series of four popular concerts for employees of Fox River valley industries from May 4 to May 12 in Appleton, Kaukauna, Neenah and Menasha, college authorities have announced. This will be the third year that Dean Carl J. Waterman has prepared a program of light music for the exclusive audience of cooperating industries in Appleton and the three neighboring cities. Admission for the concerts is by complimentary tickets obtained from industries, and none are on sale.

Dates for the concerts are: Appleton, Lawrence Memorial chapel, Sunday evening, May 4; Kaukauna high school auditorium, Thursday evening, May 8; Neenah high school auditorium, Friday evening, May 9, and Menasha high school auditorium, Monday evening, May 12. All concerts will begin at 8 o'clock.

The choir's program will be devoted largely to music from light operas and operettas, plus a few spirituals and folk songs. The choir will be formally dressed for the entire program, instead of wearing choir robes for the first half. The group Waterman will direct is the same one which he took on tour to Rockford, Chicago and Milwaukee this winter, and which received excellent notices from the metropolitan music critics. The choir also recorded an album of phonograph records which will shortly be released.

Ruth Celebrates With Hawaiian Lei

May Day is Lei Day in Hawaii and to celebrate the event, Ruth Takayesu received a fresh lei of dainty pink carnations from her home. The air service was a wee bit fast so they arrived a little early, but Ruth claims "a dip in hot water will pep them up" for May Day.

Here's a custom that beats even the American corsage, and Ruth didn't hesitate to show off her May Day lei.

Brainard Asked to Harvard Meeting

Gladys Ives Brainard, professor of piano at the conservatory of music, has been invited to attend a closed symposium on music criticism sponsored by the Harvard university department of music May 1, 2 and 3. The symposium has been made possible through the financial backing of the Elizabeth Sprague Coolidge foundation of the Library of Congress, the Nieman foundation of Harvard, Mrs. A. W. Erickson and Mrs. John Nicolas Brown.

Addresses by President James B. Conant, Roger Sessions, Olga Samaro, Virgil Thompson, Paul H. Lang, and other noted eastern musical personalities will be heard during the three day session, and the Walden String Quartet and Robert Shaw's Collegiate Chorale will present concerts of contemporary music. The Maratha Graham dance troupe will also appear.

A selected group of music educators have been invited to attend the symposium. Miss Brainard left for the east Tuesday morning.

Law Scholarships Offered Students

Scholarships with the specific purpose of helping to prepare young men for careers in public service through a legal education have just been instituted in the Northwestern university school of law, Dean Leon Green has announced. Financed by the Owen L. Coon foundation of Chicago, the new scholarships are available not only to former undergraduate scholars in forensics, but also to others who wish to study law as a step toward participation in public service. Such service has been broadly defined by the scholarship committee, but determination of a student to devote at least a part of his time to governmental vocations will be an important factor in making the awards.

Eating Can Pay Off

At Missouri university two fellows held an eating contest. The winner won the prize money, but more important, he won a contract from the Goodyear Blimp company.

Library Exhibit Chosen From Youth On Campus Series

Several pictures taken on the Lawrence campus are included in the display of photographs which are being shown in the library. The exhibit made of photographs from the campuses of American colleges and universities will continue through May 14. The pictures were chosen from the hundreds which have been taken during the last seven years for the Chicago Tribune's weekly rotogravure feature titled "Youth on the Campus."

Since the Tribune began publishing its weekly photographic report of student life on American campuses on Oct. 6, 1940, Andrew Pavlin, the photographer who handles the series, and Eleanor Nangle, Tribune beauty editor who gathers and writes data about each campus and about the pictures published, have visited more than 150 colleges and universities from coast to coast. They have traveled more than 100,000 miles in all 48 states. Pictures of Lawrence have been published four times in the series—in 1941, 1943, 1944 and 1945.

Photographer Pavlin is a veteran of World War I who was twice decorated, once by the French, and is the father of a son now in college. He has been "pledged" by sororities at Michigan State and the University of Wisconsin, and wears the pins on his suspenders to prove it. Once when he and Miss Nangle arrived at a crowded campus on the eve of a big football game he used his sorority connections to find a place for Miss Nangle to sleep.

Miss Nangle entered the journalistic field in 1926 as a reader for Liberty magazine. After leaving this job, she spent a summer in Europe and joined the Tribune staff in 1927.

Geologists Visit Wisconsin Dells On Field Trip

This morning at eight o'clock a group of interested geological students accompanied by Mr. Read left for Wisconsin Dells to spend the weekend. The trip was arranged on a purely voluntary basis, but several aspects of the tour were big incentives in attracting a large number of potential geologists.

This afternoon the group will take the familiar boat ride to see the Wisconsin river and its many curiosities. Saturday will be spent in examining the Baraboo range and Devil's Lake.

The group, which will return Sunday morning, will stay at the famous Hotel Helen at Wisconsin Dells.

Careers Conference Should Help

It has been emphasized often that Lawrence is a liberal arts college so that we students will not be seeking a four-year preparation for a career at Lawrence. Yet L. W. A. is formulating plans this Spring for a careers conference to be held on campus next October. By means of the conference L. W. A. hopes to foster the interest of Lawrence women in career possibilities. But what place has a careers conference at Lawrence, a liberal arts college?

Many of us, particularly the women, enter Lawrence not knowing what a liberal arts college is, not knowing what we want from college and not knowing how or why we came to Lawrence. By introducing us to the life to follow college, a careers conference may stimulate our thinking about our present activities in terms of future objectives. We shall want to know what Lawrence has to offer. If another school provides better training for our chosen career, we shall have ample time to plan to transfer. But if after careful consideration we decide to remain at Lawrence, we shall be better members of the college and happier individuals than if we just stayed because we happen to be here. We shall know positively that Lawrence is what we want.

It would be hard to find a college woman who does not at some time wish to be married. Those among us who are not at all assured that marriage will be their life's career will do well to divert their attention from marriage to plan for a career. It is likely that we will marry; but we may definitely have a career if we want it. By planning for a career we divert our thinking from speculation about a likelihood to action toward an attainable. With our futures settled, for the time being at least, we should be in a healthier state of mind than if our post-college plans are entirely nebulous.

Most of us approach our work with more enthusiasm when we have an end in mind than when we perform a task merely because it is there for us to do. If with the aid of the careers conference we women can arrive at some choice of career, we may possibly become more zealous students. Instead of studying with the idea of cracking a test or impressing the professor, we may have a desire to learn in order to some day be a better social worker, a better wife, or a better personnel director. Thinking about a career should not encourage us to replot our course schedule so that it will include only those subjects which are clearly applicable to our chosen careers. Rather, consideration of a more "narrow" future should stimulate broad study in college.

A careers conference has a place at Lawrence college. It can help us to be better women now and to become better women after graduation.

Candidates Present Platforms

Dupont

My platform is based on the idea that the typical Lawrence College student feels the necessity of accomplishing the aims of Liberal Education in the most efficient manner possible. I have noticed this recognition of the urgent need for the liberal way of life in many students. I have noticed it in freshmen, sophomores, in the upper classmen and especially in the veterans. I feel this necessity myself and my platform consists of a plan which I would follow to enable us to get more out of our four years at Lawrence College.

My philosophy of student government is implied in this plan which I have drawn up in four parts.

A Platform for Student Government:

PART I

A Plan for Discussion Groups

A great number of students this past year have expressed enthusiasm for informal discussion groups. Our professors have also expressed their interest in meeting the students in informal groups and many

I am in favor of a college community in which the student is responsible for his own conduct and education. This statement embodies the thought that a student's college career should have as its aim the development of individual thought and action.

In view of these ideas I submit to you the following proposed changes:

I. Reorganization of the Student Body government on a democratic basis. The Executive committee to be elected on the basis of proportional representation. This type of representation is the backbone of constitutional government and makes possible a governing body which is capable of instituting its own action.

II. That an Honor System be instituted for the administration of all examinations. That the Honor System be governed by a Student-Faculty Judicial board.

III. That full recognition be given to Independent organizations in all intra-college activities.

IV. That student control of student activities exist in fact rather than in fancy. That careful consideration be given all present social regulations and that archaic social practices be eliminated.

V. That the new student indoctrination procedure be revitalized in order that new students be made fully aware of the social, academic, and governmental opportunities offered by the college, and thus promote greater student participation in campus activities and make possible the institution of an "in-training system" which will insure competent personnel in important campus positions.

I believe the program outlined above offers students the opportunity to prepare for their place in today's world more realistically and more completely in keeping with the ideal of an awakened, intelligent citizenry.

social plan. I believe that we should plan at least two all freshman dances to help new students become socially at home here at Lawrence.

PART III The Budget

Many campus groups that normally function did not function this last year because they lacked funds. We did not have any intramural de-

Burton

I have outlined the most important points of my platform here. I feel that it is an answer to the most important problem that faces the student body today. I should say it is a way to an answer rather than an answer and it deals largely with our relationship with the administration.

My plan to reach the administration would be the creation of a board composed half of student representatives and half of college officials. I would like the student representatives elected from the student body by the executive committee and I would like the college representatives to include the dean of men, the dean of women, the assistant president and a faculty member that would be chosen for one meeting by the deans and the next meeting by the student representatives. This board would naturally have no official power, but it would put student administration relationship on an organized basis and if it handled its work with interest and care it could gain prestige and power. The administration has yet to indicate its interest in such a program, but it is my belief that they would like this field cleared up as much as we would.

Monthly Board Meetings

I would like the board to meet at least once a month, shortly after the monthly executive committee meeting and more often if necessary. I would have the work of the board published and I would do my best to make it as active as possible. The creation of this body would not require an amendment to the student constitution, but merely a majority vote of the executive committee for its passage.

Some of the more important points a board could discuss would be:

1. The Probation system.
2. The advisor system.
3. The activity or inactivity of the placement bureau, something that could be of value to all of us.
4. Social Regulations.
5. The publishing of an all college handbook that would cover rules, regulations etc.
6. A revision of the faculty instruction to freshman concerning study habits. It seems that too few instructors make the work interest-

Students Form Much-Needed Religious Discussion Group

The nucleus of the Student Christian association began to take on adult proportions at the panel last night at "What Religion Means to Me". The discussion was a beginning for the new organization. It opened in public a question that is a favorite for traditional bull sessions in the dormitories. Now the SCA is stepping in, a new association, but far from a new idea.

Several years back a YMCA and YWCA flourished on the campus. Since their disappearance no interdenominational club has arisen to fill the vacuum. There are many church groups but they can hardly be labeled campus activities. Perhaps the vacuum left by the Y has been sealed up and forgotten. But there are problems that challenge us: What can I believe about a God? Where should the church stand on current issues? Can I call myself a Christian? How about free will? . . . These problems are never sealed up and forgotten.

We need a clearing house for the questions that arise whenever our courses lead into new fields of thinking.

There should be a starting point for discussions on current subjects from the Christian slant.

And there's a definite place in college for Christian activities as well as those scholastic, social and athletic. These are the vacuums the SCA hopes to fill to balance out a liberal program on the campus.

Vikings Face Three-Sport Meet

Golf and Tennis Teams Will Seek Second Victory

The Lawrence golf and tennis teams will go after their second win tomorrow when the Vikes clash with Beloit in both events.

The tennis matches will be held on the campus courts, with the golf battle being staged at the Riverview country club.

Tennis Squad Set
Chet Hill's tennis squad took the measure of Carroll last week, but tomorrow they may have their hands full with the Gold. Hank DuPont will meet his most formidable opposition of the year when he tangles with Bill Sayres. Sayres beat Roger Downs, Illinois ace and Big Ten singles champion in 1945 last week.

Ziebel

DuPont, ranked second in Wisconsin tennis circles, has lost only three matches in his collegiate career and has beaten most amateur players in Wisconsin. Other members of the Lawrence net squad who will see action include Dale Rank, Don Ziebell, Fred Hildebrand, Lynn Cooper, Lyman Lyon and Jack Pinkerton.

Golfers Have Two Matches
Bernie Heselton's golf crew will be making their second appearance in two days, entertaining Wisconsin this afternoon and meeting Beloit tomorrow.

Beloit's ace performers are Phil Samp, who carded a 73 against Lake Forest, Don Johnson and Bob Nelson, who registered an 80 and 83 respectively against their Illinois opponents. Lawrence has no such record to show, having competed in only one match this year, that in extremely adverse weather conditions down at Carroll. However, the Vikes have Strutz, Radford, Flicker and others all capable of hitting in the high 70's on a good day.

Spring Is Here—What Is Golf?

A definition of golf, now that spring is luring the enthusiasts of the links out: Golf—a futile attempt to put an insignificant ball into an obscure hole with a totally inadequate weapon.

The Tip Off

BY DAVE BROOKER

Most sports fans know how to score football, baseball, basketball, tennis, etc., but in golf the average fan is a little bit in the dark when it comes to keeping tab of the winners and losers.

Two methods of scoring are used in golf, depending upon whether the competition is listed as match play or medal play. The number of strokes required by each contestant over an 18 hole course is totalled, with the low score winning.

In match play an entirely different and somewhat more complicated scoring system is followed. Winners are determined by the number of holes won, regardless of total score.

Take, for instance, the following score sheet:

OUT		4	4	5	4	3	5	5	4	4-38
Jones	Smith	5	5	4	3	4	4	3	5	3-36
IN		4	4	3	3	5	4	5	3	4-35
Jones	Smith	3	6	5	4	4	3	4	6	3-38

Jones finished with a score of 73, enough to beat Smith's 74 in medal play. However, in match play, Smith would be the winner, having won five holes coming in, for a total of 10 out of 18. He would be awarded one point for winning the most holes in the first nine, one point for winning the most holes in the second nine, and one point for winning the most holes during the entire match, beating Jones by a score of 3-0. In case of ties, the contestants split the point for that bracket.

At Carroll last Saturday, Don Strutz scored an 85 while his opponent registered an 84, enough to win in medal play. However, under the match play setup in force, Strutz beat his opponent 2-1.

Our sincere apologies for our failure to carry a story on the Lawrence-Carroll track meet in last week's issue. A missed assignment—and members of the track team and others were righteously indignant. It's a shame, too, because Denney's crew copped the Midwest conference title last year, along with winning the Beloit relays, and it shows promise of repeating again this spring. . . The wind really played havoc with the golfers at Carroll. Strutz finished with a 85, way off his usual pace, and even the Pioneers had plenty of trouble on the home course. . . Radford's 39 on the last nine holes was the best score of the day, although two Carroll men registered 84's for the full course. . . George VanderWeyden tied Jim Fieweger's record in the 220 yard low hurdles. Fieweger graduated in 1943 after becoming by far the best track man in Viking history. . . Chet Hill's tennis squad snapped back nicely from their defeat at Wisconsin and expect to give Beloit plenty of fight tomorrow. . . Inter-fraternity softball starts next week. . . The Lawrentian can use another good sports writer. Anybody interested?

Beloit Should Prove Tough Competition for Thinlies

Golfers Meet Wisconsin Team At Home Today

Coach Bernie Heselton's golf team will entertain the University of Wisconsin at the Riverview course this afternoon in the second match of the spring season.

The Vike golfers turned back Carroll last week over a windy Waukesha course that sent scores soaring into the high eighties, but they anticipate better results against the Badgers.

Don Strutz, key man on last year's championship team, will be in action for Lawrence, along with Gus Radford, Carl Laumann, Dick Flicker, Bill Schuh and Don Jabas. Heselton, after seeing his men under fire only once, has not yet selected his first four, but today's clash with the Badgers may clear up the situation somewhat.

Following the completion of a successful indoor season and an impressive win in their first outdoor engagement, the Lawrence track squad will make its first home appearance of the season here tomorrow when Coach Art Denney's thinclads tangle with the Gold of Beloit.

The meet will start at 1:30 at Whiting field, with all sports enthusiasts invited to witness the contest.

Beloit, after dropping a 70-60 verdict to Monmouth, came back last week to hand Ripon a 78-53 defeat, and will probably be the toughest competition the Vikes will have to face this year.

Lawson To Race Idland
Probably the outstanding feature of the day will be the two mile race between Idland, Beloit exchange student, and Bill Lawson, ace Viking distance man. Idland beat Lawson in a dual cross country meet last fall, but Lawson took the Norwegian Gold by a big margin in the Midwest cross country run at Coe a few weeks later and the score in their personal feud stands at 1 apiece going into tomorrow's meet.

Idland's best time for the season thus far was a 11:00 run against Monmouth, while Lawson covered the distance in 10:43.3 down at Carroll.

At this time, it looks as if Lawrence should take the dashes without too much trouble. With Whitelaw, Gillham, Hubers and Flom breaking records galore in early meets, Lawrence should score heavily in the 100, 220 and 440 yard runs. The Vike sprinters finished 1-2-3 twice at Carroll, giving Denney one of the best combinations in recent Lawrence history.

Another close race is expected in the half mile, where Beloit will show Franson, the Illinois state high school champion in 1946. Lawrence will count on Schmidt and Frailing. Franson has turned in a 2:04, while Frailing won at Carroll in 2:08.

Ralph Halberstadt will clash with Clift, Thatcher and Koskinen in the pole vault, which rates as pretty much of a toss-up. Halberstadt cleared 11 ft. 6 in. against Ripon, but Clift has done better than that when not bothered by injuries.

Brebner Doubles
Brebner is expected to pick up points for Lawrence in the shot put, and will help out Weaver and Foster in the high jump, where Lawrence is strong. The broad jump chores for the Vikes will be handled by Hubers and Sanders, with some stiff competition from Reynolds and Staley of Beloit.

George VanderWeyden is expected to cop the hurdles for Lawrence, and Nelson and Brebner will compete against Hahnfeldt in the discus. Records in the discus event are very even.

The 1947 Lawrence track squad, with unusual strength in the dashes, distance events, hurdles, broad and high jumps is much better balanced than the aggregation which copped the Midwest title and Beloit relays last year.

Track Team Swamps Carroll; Whitelaw Sets New Records

Opening the 1947 outdoor track season at Waukesha last Saturday afternoon, the Lawrence track team turned down the Carroll thinlies by a score of 100 to 31. Bob Whitelaw, the Viking speedster smashed three of Lawrence's previous track records while George VanderWeyden, another flash runner for Lawrence, tied the established record in the 220-yard low hurdles.

Whitelaw skirted the 220-yard dash in 21.9 seconds breaking the old Lawrence-Carroll record of 22.2 set by Corrigan in 1933, and in addition, topped the Midwest conference record by 2 of a second. Lawrence's squad captain, George VanderWeyden, won first place in both the 120-yard high hurdles and 220-yard low hurdles. His run of 25.4 seconds in the 220-yard race tied an old record set by Fieweger.

The Vikings also took first and second place honors in the mile, half-mile, 440-yard run, broad jump and won the relay race. Elsberry took first place in the mile. In the half mile, Frailing beat out Schmidt who took second. Don Hubers leaped 21 feet 2 1/2 inches for the Vikings to win the broad jump event, and was followed closely by Frank Sanders who got off a 20 foot, 7 inch leap. The high jumping trio from Lawrence met very little competition from Carroll and stopped jumping when the cross bar was at 5 feet 6 inches. Flom and Lowe took the honors in the 440 run.

Whitelaw Leads Scorers
The leading scorers at the meet for Lawrence were Whitelaw, Hubers, VanderWeyden and Brebner whose scores were 11 1/2, 10 1/2, 10 and 9 respectively. Tomorrow afternoon the Vikings will compete against the Beloit college track team at the Alexander field.

Tennis Team Gains Victory Over Carroll

Snapping back from their defeat at the hands of Wisconsin, the Lawrence tennis squad annexed its first win of the season last Saturday by trouncing Carroll 7-2 at Waukesha.

The Vikings encountered little difficulty with the Pioneers, coping four out of six singles matches and sweeping the doubles competition easily.

Hank DuPont, ace Vike net artist, started off the win by trouncing Woyhan 6-1 6-0; Paul Hanke, all-around athlete at Carroll, came back strong to down Dale Rank 1-6 6-2 6-3; Jack Pinkerton won his first match of the year for Lawrence by taking Lowenbach in straight sets 6-4 6-2; Don Ziebell bowed to Carroll's Gross 6-3 6-8 6-3; Lyman Lyon had little trouble turning back Rintleman 6-3 6-2; and Fred Hildebrand copped the final singles match by whipping Ferrari 6-2 6-4.

In the doubles, DuPont and Rank combined to set back Woyhan and Hanke 6-0 6-4; Lynn Cooper and Ziebell took the third set after a battle to win over Lowenbach and Gross 6-3 4-6 8-6; and Lyon and Hildebrand polished off Rintleman and Ferrari 6-0 6-0.

47 going out, finishing one stroke behind Strutz with 86.

Other Lawrence scores: Flicker 89; Laumann 93; Schuh 88; and Jabas 89. Wachowitz and Mitchell shot 84's for Carroll.

The Pioneers picked up an extra point by finishing with a total of 525 strokes, five less than the total registered by Lawrence.

Strutz (L) beat Wachowitz (C) 2-1.
Flicker (L) beat Frank (C) 3-0.
Ryan (C) won from Laumann (L) 2-1.
Radford (L) copped from Sneed (C) 2-1.
Mitchell (C) beat Schuh (L) 21 to 1.
Jabas (L) beat Colman (C) 2-1.

Bob Feller has struck out 1640 major league batsmen, with his best season in 1946 when he fanned 348 American League sluggers for a new record.

Vikes Win Golf Meet With Carroll On Waukesha Links

Bernie Heselson's golf squad won its opening match of the season down at Waukesha when the Vikes turned back Carroll 10½ to 8½ on the Merrill Hills course in match play.

Heavy winds pulled all sorts of tricks on the members of both teams, with two 84's, both registered by Carroll men, winning honors for the day. Don Strutz, Viking ace, was top man for Lawrence, finishing with an 85.

Gus Radford, Vike letterman, roared back with a 39 on the last nine holes after registering a cool bate on our campus and the International Relations club had inadequate funds or no funds at all, the "Lawrentian" had a surplus of over $1,000. This surplus was due in part to the efficient work of the business manager, but at least half of it was due to a poorly planned budget. I want the planning of the budget to begin this semester. If we ask for tentative bids this semester, and draw up a tentative budget to be published this year, next fall when we draw up the final budget we should have a good sound budget with no groups overlooked. The budget must not be kept a deep dark secret; it must be drawn, published and redrawn. A budget that is poor for lack of funds is bad enough, but we must not have a budget that suffers from lack of planning.

PART IV

A Sports for Recreation Plan

All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy and that is the reason we have our inter-fraternity and intramural sports programs. The emphasis at Lawrence, however, is in our present circumstance, on the wrong organization. In our present condition of the enlarged enrollment we must use our recreation facilities to accommodate the largest number possible. With our present system of inter-fraternity competition we are not making it possible for everyone to compete.

Let us look at some simple figures: There are five fraternities and allowing one independent team we have six teams of nine men each or 54 men competing in the baseball league. There are over 500 men on this campus and at least half of them or 250 men would play if it were possible. To cite another example: in basketball last winter I played with a team in the inter-fraternity league. In one of our games we played a team that had three full teams which they had to alternate in and out of the game so that everyone could get a chance to play. This sort of thing clearly shows that we are not making the best use of our available facilities.

. . . that dangerous season is here again. We hope no one gets hurt by the numerous baseballs and fraternity pins that are flying around the quadrangle these days.

. . . to turn the quad into a softball field, or a lawn; that is the question. To have windows, or not to have windows; that is the answer.

. . . while we are on the subject of sports, we'd like to mention TRACK. We feel it's a shame that other things seem to deTRACK from TRACK during TRACK season. TRACK is really an in-TRACKate sport, and it should attract more publicity than it does. At this writing we haven't been able to TRACK down what side-TRACKS people from TRACK, but we definitely feel that no other attraction could be as attractive as TRACK . . . (we did our best, Coach Denny).

. . . Dave Brooker's sports column, "The Tip Off", is the finest thing we've seen in this sheet. With about five more writers of Dave's calibre the "Lawrentian" might be an interesting publication.

. . . the Fox River rose slightly last week, swelled by the bitter tears of a few would-be thespians on campus when it was discovered that the dramatic staff had cast the and I propose that we enlarge our inter-fraternity organization into one organized along intramural lines. We ought to have as many teams as there are men for teams, competing in our sports for recreation program.

I have purposely placed my platform into a simple workable plan in four parts, for I am sure that all of you have observed that the elaborate highly idealistic platform is seldom put into practice. I intend to transfer my platform into action and I ask for your vote tomorrow as my signal to begin.

Papas Pass Best, Educator Says

"Veterans do better work in college than non-veterans, married veterans make better grades than unmarried ones; and the grades of veterans with children are the highest of all," Dr. Harold Taylor, youthful president of Sarah Lawrence College, Bronxville, N. Y., reported recently.

In explanation, the noted 32-year-old educator pointed out that men with children have greater responsibility. By responsibility, it can be assumed that Dr. Taylor had in mind the fact that it is inevitably easier to take home an "F" to mother and dad than to the "little woman" and Junior.

What self-respecting father could hold his head up at the end of a semester if Junior had a right to turn to his mother and say, "Gee, Ma, this birdbrain you married has flunked his chemistry again!"

One was the W.R.A. picnic . . . food was served . . . a good time had by all. Unfortunately we haven't been able to get any coherent information on the other function at this writing.

. . . two of the largest sororities on campus are having a combined formal tomorrow night at the Valley Inn. Get out the olive oil boys, you might as well smell like sardines too.

. . . for a dollar and a half you can see "The Best Years of Our Lives" at the Viking theater this week. For a few cents more, you could probably live them.

"College" Magazine Solicits Material

A new national collegiate magazine, "College," which is to include anything of interest to college students, has asked for immediate contributions from Lawrence students. Articles, news, humorous stories, sports and photographs with college appeal are requested for use in the new magazine, which will be distributed to two hundred American universities.

Contributions are to be sent to "College" Magazine, 705 Main Street, Evansville, Indiana, with postage enclosed for material returned.

Rates have not been proposed as yet, but payments will be issued after the magazine has been printed.

SCENES FROM THE DEANS' OFFICE — Students and deans shown in various aspects typical of the deans' office and the registrar's room.

Dean's Office Is Busy Place: Work Is Interesting and Varied

Perhaps a large portion of the student body has the unfortunate opinion that the dean's office is a Cyclops' cavern, where misguided souls are led to slaughter. Despite this dead of their office, our deans of women and men Miss Wollaeger and Mr. DuShane, emphasize that they try to make the office as accessible as possible, though at times it takes a long while to see them due to the large increase in enrollment. Miss Wollaeger adds humorously that they always try to keep the reception room well stocked with interesting current magazines, but as a last resort one can of course always—study!

Another effect of the increased enrollment, Miss Wollaeger states, is that for the first time since she came here in 1942 she has been unable to meet and subsequently recognize every person on campus. Naturally she is much better acquainted with the girls on campus, for besides routine contacts with her advisees, she becomes acquainted with them through admissions, dormitory assignments, orientation week, the president's reception, house meetings (which she often attends), L.W.A., and freshman conferences. She states that she prefers having girls work out their minor problems either by themselves or with student advisers, instead of making these decisions herself.

ing and meaningful to the average student.

7. Transportation from the campus to the gym. Possibly bus service.

8. Physical improvements to the campus. I've heard many people say that a sidewalk was needed from Ormsby to College avenue.

10 A coordination of all charitable drives. Possibly limiting the number of such drives, possibly consolidating all of them in one contribution.

11. Convocations; They've been better this year, but relatively small improvements may add a lot. I have outlined these points as problems that I recognize. There are others of course that I would expect you to send on to the board. You would have to stand behind this committee with interest and continued contributions of thoughts and ideas.

Dispensation of Funds

I want the established executive committee to work efficiently and particularly in the dispensation of funds for various campus organizations. If certain people feel that its organization needs improving I will study their proposals and inform everyone of the effect of such plans. I don't want people to spend all their time thinking about student government, but few have wasted time this way in the past. I will try to arouse as much interest as possible by even better publicity.

Being active in athletics I'm anxious to see life pumped into the pep program. Many obstacles stand in the way of a pep band that can be present at all athletic contests but I think that a smaller band could be started to play when a large one is not available. I will work closely with the pep chairman.

President Is Leader

Students, remember that the president of the student body is your leader on the campus. Any

M. in the chapel and the choir will make the last of its four centennial appearances then. Commencement will begin at 3 o'clock with Gordon Clapp as speaker. One hundred sixty-one students, the largest class in Lawrence history, are candidates for degrees.

Commencement and the centennial celebration will officially conclude with a reception given by President and Mrs. Nathan M. Pusey from 4:30 to 6 P. M. Sunday afternoon.

Wallis Gives Organ Recital

Phyllis Wallis, senior organ major of LaVahn Maesch, will be presented in the first senior recital of the year, next Monday evening, May 5 at 8:00 p. m. in Memorial chapel.

Mrs. Wallis has appeared in numerous piano and organ recitals, the WHBY weekly music broadcasts and currently is organist for the English Lutheran church of Appleton.

plans or promises that we make or propose here today are not automatically put into effect if we are elected. Anything that we have planned or desire to put into effect must be accepted by the Executive Committee, the legislative branch. In choosing your president you should pick a man that you feel has not only a good program, but a man that will follow through and put it into effect. The president doesn't even have a vote, his only job is to lead.

It is time for us to decide just how far we want our voice to be audible in campus affairs. If we really want a stake in the college, let's make up our minds now and stop kidding ourselves. The longer we wait the harder that stake will come.
